

A photograph showing two staff members wearing green safety vests and white shirts. They are kneeling on the floor of a play area, interacting with a young child whose back is to the camera. The child is also wearing a green vest. The play area has various toys and equipment in the background, including colorful rings and a table with items on it. The photo is set against a yellow star-shaped background.

